Severe Weather Advice For Parents

When there are extreme weather conditions in the local area, such as heavy snow, the Headteacher has to decide on whether to keep the school open or not. Many factors will affect the decision-making process such as:

Safety and wellbeing of the children

Safety and wellbeing of parents

Safety and wellbeing of staff

Availability of staff

Likelihood of more extreme weather before the end of the school day

This is not an exhaustive list

Please assume that the school will always remain open unless you are informed otherwise. The school will inform you of a closure as early as possible via our text messaging service, Parentmail. The school will also post a message on the home page of the school website. The school will not send out a message via Parentmail if the school remains open as normal.
